Thurmond Ends Marathon Talkfest

Talks For 24 Hours, 19 Minutes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-SC) ended his marathon talkfest against the civil rights bill at 9:13 p.m. (EDT) Thursday night after setting a record for one-man filibusters.

He had lasted for 24 hours and 19 minutes. That was 1 hour and 53 minutes longer than the previous record of 22 hours and 26 minutes set by Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) in 1953.

Groggy and faltering at times during his long, self-imposed ordeal, the Dixie senator finished strong. With a slow-motion but sweeping gesture of the arm, he denounced "those nine men" on the Supreme Court for their decision outlawing school segregation.

"If I had the time," he told the Senate, "I'd tell you all the decisions handed down by this Supreme Court."

Volley of Mirth
Another volley of mirth sounded from the jam-packed galleries when he announced dead-pan that he intended to vote against the civil rights bill, which he had exoriated around the clock.

When he concluded, there was a burst of applause. Several persons around him shook their heads and then he slipped off the floor and into the Democratic cloakroom.

Wife Waiting
His pretty wife was waiting for him as he left the Senate chamber, and greeted him with a big hug and a kiss, and the rueful observation that "you need a shave." He obviously did, too.

"I feel fine," he told the crowd of reporters and photographers swarming in the hallway.

Scotch any idea that he might be heading for home and a good sleep, Thurmond said: "I'm going to stay right here and vote against this bill."

'Feels Fit'
The senator said he felt surprisingly fit after the long ordeal. He said he had prepared himself for it by taking a steam bath Wednesday and getting a good rest.

Shortly before he quit, Thurmond told a little story on himself about long speeches.

He said he remembered once

Order Probe Of Alleged Abuses At Labor Camp

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The State Labor Department Thursday launched an inquiry into a Georgia man's charge that he and 22 other Negroes had been held in virtual peonage at a migrant labor camp in upstate New York.

But the department ran into early trouble trying to pinpoint the target.

James H. Brunson, 39, said in Augusta, Ga., Wednesday that white farm bosses beat and cheated field hands at a camp near Hannibal, in Oswego County.

He gave the name of the camp but the department could not positively identify it.

Gov. Averell Harriman Wednesday ordered two state agencies to conduct a full-scale probe into what he termed "abuses" at migrant labor camps.

A man in the back of the room got up, he said, and called out:

"Brother, if you speak much longer, they'll soon be here."

No Signs Of Filibuster
When Thurmond shut down, other er Southern senators launched into speeches against the civil rights bill, but there was no sign of further filibustering. Nor was there any indication when the Senate would quit for the night.

Midway in Thurmond's speech, the word had passed that he was shooting for a record.

The old record of 22 hours and 26 minutes was established in April 1953 by Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) in a fight against a bill giving submerged oil lands to the states.

Conserves Voice
Thurmond's effort was a lesson in voice conservation. At times he spoke so quietly that he appeared to be mumbling to himself. At other times his voice rang loud and clear across the Senate floor.

Thurmond's exploit in clinching the filibustering championship was not the first time he had attracted national attention.

On States' Rights Ticket
It was Thurmond who headed the States' Rights ticket in 1948 and who, as a presidential candidate against Harry Truman, took away four states from him.

Disinter Spare Parts From Grave At Base In Newfoundland

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department informed Senate investigators Thursday that $33,700 worth of military supplies, three-fourths of it still good, were buried last year at Harmon Air Force Base in Newfoundland.

All of it has been dug up and some put back in stock.

Army W. O. Benny H. Wilks testified that he presided at the burial.

Army Capt. Arthur M. Williamson took responsibility for issuing the interment order, although he said he didn't remember doing so.

Jury Says Widow's Death Accident, Not Suicide

CHICAGO (AP)—A coroner's jury ruled Thursday that the death of Mrs. Kathryn Dawson, 52, under the wheels of her own car was an accident.

The coroner's office Wednesday had listed the suburban Hometown woman's death as "automobile suicide."

Policeman Price Virgin said he and Mrs. Dawson were drinking in a South Side tavern Tuesday night before she drove away. He testified she had a cast on her left leg which would have impeded her operation of the car.

Virgin said the auto struck a stop sign, stop light and rammed an outdoor grease rack in a nearby garage. She tumbled from the vehicle when it hit the rack and fell under a rear wheel, Virgin said.

A white babushka, which Virgin said he thought at first was a blindfold, apparently was worn as a scarf and slipped over the victim's eyes as she was tossed from the car, the officer said.

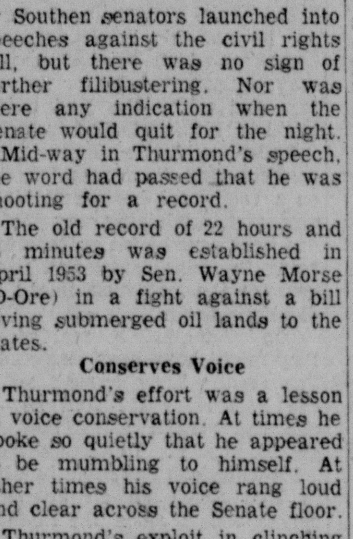

A note found in Mrs. Dawson's wallet listed a funeral home where her body was to be taken. An official of the funeral home testified it was a formal statement directing handling of her body upon death and had been made earlier in the year when her deceased husband was at the home.

About 73 per cent of all American families own automobiles.

Both Wilks and Williamson told the Senate investigations subcommittee they considered it unusable junk, impeding repair and construction work, that went into the hole in the ground.

Although Wilks conceded that burying the supplies violated regulations, both he and Williamson said they believed getting rid of them was in the best interests of the country.

This was the second $30,000 burial the subcommittee had heard about in an inquiry into reasons for the piling up of 44 million dollars worth of excess, unused spare parts and supplies at Harmon and eight other air bases in Newfoundland, Labrador and Greenland.

WILLIAM E. PROXMIRE

Seating of the 41-year-old newcomer gives the Democrats a 50-46 edge over the Republicans in the Senate. Proxmire, elected to serve out the remaining 16 months of McCarthy's term, already has announced he will seek a full six-year term in November 1958.

Proxmire flew into Washington Wednesday night with his wife, Ellen.

Proxmire's Father Didn't Raise Son To Be Democrat

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP)—The Republican father of Wisconsin's new Democratic senator said Thursday he never tried to influence his son politically or professionally.

"I didn't raise my boy to be a Democrat. Harvard's where it happened," said Dr. Theodore S. Proxmire, who at 75 still cares for a large medical practice in this swank North Shore suburb.

He recalled his son, William, had said the trend in politics "has been to the left all along and nobody is going to change it. And me, I've never tried to change him. I never tried to influence him on what he should do in life, either."

William, 41, was elected Tuesday to fill the Senate seat left vacant by the death of Sen. Joseph McCarthy, a Republican. Proxmire was the first Democrat elected to the Senate in Wisconsin since 1932.

The new senator attended a private school in Lake Forest until he was 13. He attended a prep school in the East and Yale and Harvard. A brother, Theodore Jr., an Army flier, was killed in a plane crash in 1939. A sister, Mrs. John E. Baker, lives in Lake Forest.

Silence Shrouds Successful Firing Of Army Missile

WASHINGTON (AP)—Only the official silence imposed by the Defense Department prevented the Army Tuesday from saying that its 1,500-mile Jupiter missile is a success and could be in production within 30 days.

This positive Army assurance about its entry in the longer-range ballistic missile race developed after a Jupiter was launched from Patrick Air Force Base, Fla., Wednesday and traveled the planned 1,500-mile distance over the Atlantic without a single hitch.

It came as Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) renewed his contention that U.S. production of medium- and long-range missiles has been delayed in time and cut back in numbers below previously planned schedules.

Jackson spoke out after a four-hour closed meeting of his Senate-House Atomic Energy Weapons subcommittee with Acting Secretary of Defense Kenneth C. Nichols, and missile experts from the Army, Navy and Air Force.

Quarles himself did not indicate misgivings about U.S. progress. "We have not allowed funds—restrictions—to injure the programs to the best of our knowledge," Quarles said. He added that studies are continuing.

Jackson, who has previously alleged a missile slowdown because of Pentagon-imposed budget limitations, said:

1. Technical troubles have slowed down the steps when the U.S. intermediate-range—1,500-mile—missiles can be expected to be available for operational use.

2. Money restrictions have reduced the numbers of missiles that the United States had planned to produce.

Secretary of the Army Brucker, during a visit to Miami Beach Thursday, said the Army's Jupiter "is a spectacular success," but he went no further.

The Army can say nothing officially about the performance of its missile because of a Defense Department directive forbidding any official comment on performance or even the identity of new missiles fired from the Florida test base.

Proxmire Sworn In As U.S. Senator

WASHINGTON (AP)—William E. Proxmire was sworn in as the new Democratic senator from Wisconsin Thursday, succeeding the late Republican Sen. Joseph McCarthy.

Proxmire, who scored a stunning upset victory in a special election Tuesday, was seated in hurry-up fashion so that he could take part in the waning days of this session.

By unanimous consent arranged by the Republican and Democratic floor leaders, Proxmire was escorted before Vice President Nixon to receive the oath of office during a filibuster speech by Sen. Thurmond (D-SC) against the civil rights bill.

The Senate agreed to allow Thurmond to resume where he left off after the interruption.

Also waived was the customary wait for an official count of the ballots in Tuesday's election. The Wisconsin Board of Canvassers certified Proxmire's election on the basis of unofficial returns which showed he defeated Republican former Gov. Walter J. Kohler by about 435,000 for Proxmire to 312,000 for Kohler.

Telegrams from the Board of Canvassers and Republican Gov. Vernon Thomson certifying that Proxmire was the winner were read to the Senate before Nixon administered the oath.

China To Deport Youth Refusing To Give Up Passport

LONDON (AP)—A dispatch from Peiping said Thursday Shelby Tucker, one of 41 young Americans who came to Red China from the Moscow Youth Festival, is to be deported Friday for refusing to hand over his American passport.

Tucker, a 22-year-old Oxford University student from Pass Christian, Miss., withheld the passport from immigration inspection and the Chinese said he thus broke the law, the British news agency Reuters reported.

Tucker spent Thursday sight-seeing and getting Russian and Czechoslovak visas while his associates on the trip started a tour of northeast industrial centers.

Tucker has taken the stand that he will not use his passport in contravention of the prohibitions stamped in the document. He was among half a dozen who took that position when the party arrived in Peiping, but the others gave in.

The dispatch said he will be put on a train Friday for return to Moscow and will cross the Chinese-Soviet border at Manchuli.

Traffic Deaths Run Slightly Below Last Year

CHICAGO (AP)—Deaths on the nation's highways, already running slightly below last year's record toll, took another step downward during July, the National Safety Council reported Thursday.

The July death total was 3,320 as against 3,570 for the same month last year, the Council said. The new figure represented a saving of 250 lives.

The Council said July was the eighth straight month, and the ninth in the last 10, that deaths were down or unchanged from the same month of last year. Figures for the year were running 3 per cent below 1956.

The circumstances, encouraging under any circumstances, is especially heartening as we face the Labor Day weekend holiday," said Ned H. Dearborn, Council president.

The NSC has predicted 420 Americans will die on the highways in the 78-hour holiday period beginning at 6 p.m. (local time) Friday and ending at midnight (local time) Monday.

More than 40,000 persons died in traffic mishaps last year, according to NSC figures. The Council said if the present trend continues, the 1957 toll will be slightly more than 39,000.

NUN TAKES TURN AT CONTROLS OF JET

MC GUIRE AIR FORCE BASE, N. J. (AP)—Sister Mary Aquinas, a 62-year-old Roman Catholic nun and a licensed pilot, landed here in a jet airplane.

Sister Mary took off with Air Force Major Chester A. Biedul of Detroit from Madison, Wis., in a T-33 jet trainer. With the nun at the controls part of the time, they sped to this southern New Jersey base in an hour and 45 minutes, at an average speed of 525 miles an hour.

Sister Mary, who is a science-teaching supervisor at Holy Family College in Manitowish, Wis., was the first nun to learn flying when she took pilot training in 1943. She is believed to be the first nun ever to fly in a jet.

"It was wonderful all the way," said she after the flight.

Agreement Ends Strike Against Boston Papers

BOSTON (AP)—An agreement Thursday night to arbitrate a demand for an additional $2.12 weekly wage increase brought an end to a strike which has paralyzed six of Boston's seven daily newspapers since Aug. 9.

The agreement came at the end of a long day of negotiations between representatives of the publishers and the Mailers Union, an affiliate of the International Typographical Union.

Although precise terms of the arbitration agreement were not immediately made public, it was learned that during the day the Mailers accepted a $10.50 weekly raise which they had rejected on Aug. 17. However, they held firm in their demand for $12.62 but agreed to let the matter of the $2.12 difference be arbitrated.

The publishers had said that the $10.50 package raise, spread over two years, was their final offer.

The three publishers of the affected newspapers immediately announced plans to resume publication with afternoon editions Friday.

No Foul Play In Death Of Mystery Writer, Miss Rice

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The county's chief autopsy surgeon said Thursday that there was no indication of foul play in the death of Cris Rice, the mystery writer who turned out 25 books during her troubled career.

Miss Rice, 49, was found dead in her apartment Wednesday night.

The coroner's office first listed the death as "possibly homicide—possibly natural." But Dr. Frederick Newbarr said after conducting an autopsy Thursday that he found "no evidence of any injury that could have caused death."

"All she's got," Newbarr said, "is a little bit of bluish coloration on the forehead."

He said further studies will have to be made before the cause of death is determined.

Dr. Newbarr said Miss Rice had been drinking heavily just before her death.

Eight years ago she was committed to Camarillo State Hospital for treatment of chronic alcoholism.

Miss Rice, in poor health in recent months, had been confined to her bed for a week. Her weight had dropped to 80 pounds.

Her best known works include "Having Wonderful Crime," "The Lucky Star," "Trial by Fury" and "The Sunday Pigeon Murders."

She also wrote several screen plays.

Miss Rice, a native of Chicago, was married five times.

Civil Rights Bill Passes Senate, Goes To Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Thursday night passed the compromise civil rights bill and sent it to the White House after Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-SC) ended a record-smashing, one-man filibuster against it.

First civil rights measure to clear the Senate in 82 years, the bill is considered certain to be signed by President Eisenhower, though it is far from all he asked.

It would empower the attorney general to apply for federal court injunctions against violations or threatened violations of voting rights, give federal judges somewhat limited powers to jail and fine persons contemptuously disregarding the injunctions; create a bi-partisan commission with subpoena powers to investigate civil rights problems; and set up a new civil rights division in the justice department.

Nub of the long dispute that ended in the compromise measure was the jury trial question.

As passed, the bill permits federal judges to punish without jury trial cases of civil contempt, which are designed to secure compliance with a court order rather than to punish.

Search Lake Shore Area For Clues In Andersen Slaying

CHICAGO (AP)—The search for clues in the slaying of Judith Mae Andersen shifted back Thursday to the Lake Michigan shore area where her butchered body was found.

Fresh findings and reports by residents of the district prompted the switch.

A fisherman found marks close to Montrose Harbor where barrels may have been unloaded from a car or truck. Scratches, and chip marks were noted on the large rocks of the harbor breakwater, indicating heavy objects may have been dropped or dragged over them.

A 55-gallon oil drum containing the 15-year-old victim's torso was fished from the North Side harbor Aug. 22. A 5-gallon drum containing her head, hands and an arm was pulled ashore Aug. 24.

Skin divers and policemen with dragging equipment combed the waters anew. They hoped to retrieve the 32 caliber pistol used to shoot Judith before her body was dismembered.

Friday an additional 657 policemen will search the north and northwest sections of Chicago for clues in the murder. Police Commissioner Timothy O'Connor said the house-to-house search would include girls, young and other places the alibi might have been killed.

Park police and landscape workers will join in a similar search of the Montrose Harbor area.

Police Thursday questioned a 19-year-old boy who had dated Judith shortly before her disappearance. He was cleared by a lie detector test and released.

William Theliman, a janitor, told police he heard what sounded like a barrel being rolled over rocks at the lake front south of the harbor on the night of Sunday.

Fired Postal Worker Wages Battle Before Surrendering

CHICAGO (AP)—A discharged postal employee, fortified with a curious collection of armor, waged a fierce gun battle with guards in the U.S. Courthouse Thursday but eventually surrendered meekly.

No one was hurt, although more than a score of bullets bounced against the walls in the rotunda of the old, domed structure while dozens of spectators watched.

James B. Jennings, 32, Negro, began shooting at a guard from a second floor balcony, and then when other guards returned the fire he barricaded himself in a washroom. After exchanging more shots with guards, he slid his 38 caliber pistol under the door and surrendered.

Strapped to his chest and back was flimsy armor fashioned from old stove pans. He carried a briefcase shield stuffed with plywood and a slab of plaster. Three objects suspected of being bombs—one six inches long and two four inches long—were seized by police and sealed in a washbasin. Each was wrapped with black tape and a fuse.

In his pocket authorities found an American flag and a 14-page handwritten letter, a rambling indictment protesting his dismissal from the post office transportation service.

The battle was touched off when Jennings fired three shots from the balcony at George Tetik, 53, a General Services Administration guard.

"I was standing in the center of the rotunda. I looked up and seen him shooting," said Tetik. Jennings then fired at Miss Lee Nutt, a cashier in the Federal Court clerk's office a few feet away. These shots missed, but they attracted the attention of two other guards on the first floor. Guns drawn, they dashed up to the stairway in time to see Jennings flee into the washroom. Another exchange of shots followed, and officers told Jennings to come out and he wouldn't be hurt.

U.S. Commissioner C.S. Bentley Pike continued Jennings' arraignment on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon to Sept. 4 and set bond at $15,000.

Zorin Says Plan Has No Value

LONDON (AP)—The West Thursday night proposed on 11-point, all-or-nothing disarmament package on the long chance that Russia might reconsider its opposition. But the Soviet delegate promptly rejected it.

A British informant said Valerian Zorin, the Soviet delegate to the U.N. Disarmament subcommittee, calmly declared in a 50-minute speech that the Western plan "cannot be considered as offering anything of genuine value."

Zorin spoke without taking time out to consider the plan in any of its details.

The package contained no big surprises. Already presented piecemeal in five months of negotiations here, it was designed as a first stage in dispelling the shadows of nuclear war, curbing the arms burden and providing international inspection.

Backdrop Of Warnings
It was offered by the United States with the support of its NATO Allies against a backdrop of Soviet claims and warnings that fully tested an Inter-Continental Ballistic Missile capable of knocking out a target any place in the world.

The missile, which Russian writers said can carry a nuclear warhead, would be the first of its kind developed by any power.

Zorin Objections
In the past two days, Zorin had made clear Moscow's rejection of two main features of the Western package—zones of air and ground inspection proposed here on Aug. 9, and a two-year moratorium on nuclear weapons tests linked with a cut-off in atomic production for military purposes.

The Russians insist on an unconditional ban on atomic tests and atomic weapons.

Zorin also had suggested early abandonment of the five-year negotiations here. He argued in favor of expanding them to take in Asian, African and Latin American countries. He said there was a deadlock and Western diplomats were lying when they said progress was being made.

End Of Talks Seen
All this led to official speculation that it is only a matter of days before the talks here break down.

Harold Stassen, U.S. delegate to the London talks, was instructed by Washington to present the complete plan at the 153rd meeting of the committee Thursday, in order to put the Western case before the world public.

Stassen had planned to leave Friday to attend his son's wedding in Charlottesville, Va., Saturday.

A Man Unique In History

Planes have flown higher than 19 miles above the earth, but never before has man climbed to such heights in such a way that he could leisurely observe the strange half-world of the stratosphere.

Now Maj. David Simons, an Air Force doctor, has done it. Rising in a small aluminum gondola attached to a tapered balloon, he has for all practical purposes made himself the first true "space man."

From his lonely observation post high in the heavens, he could see the curvature of the earth. The sky around him was black and violet, and stars did not twinkle but instead glowed like animals' eyes. Far, far below he could watch with fascination as lightning ripped through storm clouds.

If the hopes of the builders of rockets and earth satellites are realized, then what Simons say may one day be a commonplace sight to many in the world.

But at this moment this heretofore unheralded major walks about in the knowledge that he has seen a breathtaking spectacle of this universe that no other man living or dead has ever witnessed.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

SCHROON LAKE, N.Y. (AP)—Natalie Wood, the darling of the bobby sox set, is approaching one of the younger generation's greatest crossroads—in less than a year she'll be 20.

The girl's ready. She feels it's about time people quit calling her "the teen-ager's teen-ager."

"It has been very nice to be called that," she remarked, "but I never knew exactly what it meant."

Natalie, who has played in some 30 films since she was 4, became the Sarah Bernhardt of the juvenile fans by appearing with the late James Dean in "Rebel Without a Cause."

She now is taking the biggest step of her career in the title role of "Marjorie Morningstar," a dramatization of Herman Wouk's best-selling novel.

She has abandoned her familiar "pixie" haircut, which looked as if it had been nibbled off by a mouse, and now wears her hair in a "soft page boy fluff." Whatever that is, it's an improvement.

The outdoor scenes of the movie are now being shot at Scaroon Manor here, the famous Adirondack resort. To 800 curious guests, however, the filming of Marjorie Morningstar's adventures are less gripping than the real life boy-meets-girl drama, "Will Bob win Natalie?"

Bob is Robert J. Wagner, a tall handsome young actor who seems to be making an all-out campaign to make Miss Wood Mrs. Wagner. To film fans too old for Jack and too young for Clark Gable, this is the greatest romance of the 20th century. At least for the moment.

Wagner, who isn't in the film, haunts the set all day and is definitely in the picture as soon as the cameras cease grinding. After work he and Natalie, who is chaperoned by her mother and young sister, Lana, are as close as two holes in a Swiss cheese.

As they slipped a bag together the other evening, watching a fading sun turn the mountains into pink-tinted purple pyramids, Natalie talked of her future.

"I want two children, a boy and a girl," she said, "but as to exactly when I'll marry—" she hesitated, and glanced self-consciously over at Wagner, who said nothing.

"There is so much yet I want to do in this business. There is no end to how far you can go if you handle yourself properly. I think eventually I'd like to go into the production end."

"But right now I have everything I want," continued Natalie. "I'm happy. Bob has a boat, and we spend every spare moment we can on it. That's the life. If I could retire right now, I'd like to live on a boat."

"Yeah," said Bob. "At 4 a.m. I get this tomato up. It's like mov-

CLEVELAND (AP)—The eighth grade class of St. Vitus parochial school figured that a tree ran down during the class picnic at Gordon Park needed rescuing and put in an emergency call to the Cleveland Animal Protective League.

Kefauver, the Great Problem

Had to Take a Back Seat

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Sen. Estes Kefauver and his Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee tangled with the wrong monopoly this summer and, as a result, his investigation of why U.S. Steel boosted its product six dollars a ton recently didn't bear much fruit.

The senator from Tennessee, who has an excellent past record for getting the maximum out of his hearings, is the first one to admit this.

The monopoly which proved too much for him was the hearing which his fellow Sen. John McClellan from Arkansas staged with his probe into union activities. McClellan and his boyish counsel, Bob Kennedy, monopolized the big news out of here and there was nothing that Kefauver could do about it.

Kefauver had as his star attraction the personable, eminently respectable chairman of the board of directors of U.S. Steel, Roger M. Blough. McClellan produced Jimmy Hoffa and the likes of Johnny Dio over a period of weeks and there was no competition.

If anybody should understand the public pull of gangsters on TV before a Senate committee, Kefauver should. He pioneered the idea with his probe of racketeering several years ago.

That's not to say that both Kefauver and Blough didn't give the effort to put news juice in the hearing a good college try. For example, they wandered into an informative discussion of how Macy's and Gimbel's in New York set prices and compete with each other.

Kefauver said: "Mr. Blough, in attempting to create the impression that virtually all prices are administered prices, referred to Macy's as having administered prices. There is, of course, a crucial distinction between the position in which Macy's finds itself and that of U.S. Steel. When Macy's increases prices it has no certain knowledge that Gimbel's is going to increase its prices by a like amount."

"But when U.S. Steel raises its price, it does so with the almost certain knowledge, based on years of experience, that its so-called competitors will make the same increase. Would Mr. Blough say that Macy's and Gimbel's are not in competition because their prices are different?"

Blough replied: "Mr. Chairman, I will try to can communicate. My concept is that a price that matches another price is a competitive price. If you don't choose to accept that concept, then, of course, you don't accept it. In the steel industry we know it is so."

Kefauver then moved to the price of eggs. He read a letter to a paper from a farmer who complained that he was not getting a cost-of-living increase in the price of his eggs which he was selling.

"Sometimes I wish I were in the egg business, too," Blough said.

After Kefauver finished reading the letter Blough said, "I do not know what price he is selling eggs at, but I am sure of one thing, he is selling them at a higher price than he was in 1940."

Into this tense exchange Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill.), a member of the subcommittee, interrupted a comment. "The watch industry right now," he said, "is occupied full-time trying to survive in the face of competition from Switzerland. They have problems of the own, I can assure you."

Eventually, when the conversational detours were passed, Kefauver asked Blough if he would supply the subcommittee with a breakdown of all the costs which went into one ton of steel.

"There's no other way to draw final conclusions," Kefauver said. Blough replied that he considered this information a competitive secret.

Then Kefauver said that the subcommittee would take the cost breakdown, keep it confidential and only report it as an average, figured in with the same information from other steel companies.

Blough said he didn't think he could do that and the U.S. Steel phase of the hearing ended.

It took up 784 pages of testimony.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Ernest Gann believes he is the highest-earning author in the United States, and it's possible that he's the happiest, too.

Gann is a broad-faced, handsome man who lives at Pebble Beach, Calif.—some of the time. The rest of the time he's hustling to remote and fascinating parts of the world to gather material for his books.

"My wife and I have been married 24 years, and it has been a very happy marriage," he observed. "This may be partly due to the fact that I have been home about four years of the 24."

This sounds like an exaggeration, but there could be some truth in it. During his younger years he was a barnstorming pilot. He appeared in flying circuses and even flew tourists over movie stars' homes at a buck a throw.

"I'd spot a swimming pool below and tell them 'that's Corinne Griffith's home' or 'that's Mary Pickford's,'" he recalled.

Later he became a commercial air line pilot. During this period, his experiences finally started paying off in literary gold. He scored with his first novel, "Island in the Sky."

He wrote "Island in the Sky" from his experiences as a ferry pilot in the North Atlantic during the war. "Fiddler's Green" was the result of his two years in commercial fishing. "The High and the Mighty" was a fictionalized account of an actual flight during his piloting on the Hawaii-to-California run.

He wanted to write a novel about present-day Hong Kong, so he went there and bought a junk to sail around the Chinese waters. The result was "Soldier of Fortune." Clark Gable starred in the film version.

Gann's latest adventure concerned a square-rigger. The only one he could locate was in Holland, so he gathered a crew, went there and sailed it home to California. Last year, he sailed it to the South Seas and it is now in Hawaii for the filming of "Twilight of the Gods," the novel that resulted from his sailing experience.

The reaction came Aug. 25 from the Peiping newspaper—the Chinese People's Daily—which often, but not always, reflects the views of the Chinese government. It said his plan was "completely unacceptable to the Chinese people."

It insisted the United States let Red Chinese newsmen come here on a reciprocal basis.

And, as might have been expected from the State Department's talk of looking for disasters, the newspaper accused the department of trying to send in American newsmen to collect intelligence information and stir up trouble.

On Aug. 25 and 26 State Department officials rejected the idea of reciprocity. But Tuesday, Aug. 27, Dulles told a news conference this country is prepared to consider permitting one or more newsmen from Red China to come here.

But he didn't commit himself on what he'd do if they asked to come.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—If Secretary of State Dulles and his State Department had deliberately set out to mess up the chance for American newsmen to go to Red China they couldn't have done it better.

For a year Dulles had refused to let American reporters go to the China mainland. For a year he had been under pressure from American news and radio-TV executives and some members of Congress to lift his ban.

He yielded last Thursday — to a very limited degree — by saying 24 reporters could go to Red China for a trial period of six months.

But at the very moment of doing so, he and his department used language which seemed unnecessary, unless perhaps for face-saving, and which the Red Chinese could hardly fail to find insulting.

Dulles said the Red Chinese couldn't send their reporters here on a reciprocal basis and his department, explaining why the ban had been eased a bit on Americans going to China, suggested it was because the newsmen might find disasters there.

The Communists reacted, as they might have been expected to. The result: They haven't yet let the Americans in. And now no one can predict when they will get in, if at all. This is the story:

No American newsmen had been in Red China as an accredited correspondent since the mainland fell to the Communists in 1949. And this country has refused to recognize the Red regime as the legitimate government of China.

But on Aug. 6, 1956, Red China announced 15 Americans would be permitted to report from the China mainland for a month.

The State Department said the newsmen couldn't go until the Red Chinese freed all Americans held in their jails. This was a form of censorship. Dulles was making American news media a part of the administration's foreign policy. The news executives began their protests.

The pressure on Dulles to lift his ban continued. And last Thursday, Aug. 22, his department said 24 American newsmen could go to China, although it pointed out that six Americans with sentences ranging from five years to life are still in Red Chinese jails.

The department says these Americans have been imprisoned on trumped-up charges of espionage. But—Americans are still in jail and now Dulles says Americans can go to China, although a year ago his department said none could go until all American prisoners were released. What had changed?

Dulles issued a statement which said in part: "New factors have come into the picture, making it desirable that additional information be made available to the American people respecting current conditions in China."

What new factors? State Department officials said they included reports on food shortages, natural disasters, production failures and a statement last February by Chinese leaders that the Hungarian revolt had a heavy impact on China.

The Red Chinese could hardly fail to interpret this as meaning: Dulles now was willing to let American newsmen into China because he thought they might be able to make the Red regime look bad. This was aside from the fact that Dulles was setting himself up as judge on when and under what circumstances the American people should be permitted to have news from inside China.

Nowhere did he suggest he wanted the newsmen to report objectively on what they found — about the good as well as the bad. But Dulles' crowning touch was this statement: "It is understood that the United States will not accord reciprocal visas to Chinese bearing passports issued by the Chinese Communist regime."

This was something which did not need to be said, even for bargaining purposes — at least until the Red Chinese said they wanted to send their newsmen here. They hadn't said that until Dulles banned a reciprocal exchange.

The reaction came Aug. 25 from the Peiping newspaper—the Chinese People's Daily—which often, but not always, reflects the views of the Chinese government. It said his plan was "completely unacceptable to the Chinese people."

It insisted the United States let Red Chinese newsmen come here on a reciprocal basis.

★ DR. JORDAN SAYS ★

Treatment for Dropsy Depends Mostly on Cause

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Mrs. D. M. writes that she has a few questions on her mind about dropsy?

"Is it fatal?" she asks. "Is this disease necessarily connected with all heart conditions? And does a person who has heavy disease of the lungs get dropsy? Finally, if a person does have this disease is there any good treatment for it?"

Before discussing dropsy in general, I shall try to answer these questions. First, dropsy, or edema, is not a disease at all but a symptom. Therefore, it is not of itself fatal. Death occurs only when the underlying cause cannot be successfully treated. Dropsy does not accompany all forms of heart disease. Finally, the treatment for dropsy depends largely on the cause.

When The Body fluids are not eliminated as they should be the result is an accumulation of such fluids in the tissues. It is this which carries the name of dropsy or edema. The most likely spots for this accumulation are in the lower extremities, the abdominal cavity, the lower part of the back and under the eyes.

One of the most common causes for edema is heart disease. When the heart is unable to do its full job of keeping the circulation going in a normal manner, slowing of the blood flows occurs. If this slowing is too great, the blood is not pumped through the kidneys fast enough. Therefore, some of the fluid which should be eliminated from the body through the urine is retained.

Bright's Disease, or chronic nephritis is another cause of dropsy. In this disorder the kidneys are not able to filter out fluid from the blood as they should. Thus, too much fluid is simply kept in the body.

There are other conditions which may produce dropsical accumulation of fluid, but probably the most common are the two mentioned. In all cases, therefore, when dropsy develops, it is important to find out what is causing it and to remove or remedy the cause whenever possible.

If this cannot be done, special measures, including diet, and medicines which alter the chemical substances in the blood, may be tried to stimulate the elimination of fluids.

In some cases of dropsy it is possible to give drugs which are called diuretics. Diuretics have the ability, at least temporarily, to increase the flow of fluids through the kidneys and their passage into the urine.

Sometimes excessive fluids can be taken off by puncturing the place where it has accumulated and allowing it to drain out. If abdominal cavity it may be removed from time to time through a needle.

In all cases of dropsy the measures used must be adjusted to the individual circumstances.

Baked Beans, Sardines Make Delicious Maine Lunch Fare

MAINE LUNCHEON to tempt the most finicky eater is this one of baked beans, sardines, oatmeal bread and onion slices.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor
PORT CLYDE, Me. (AP)—This is one of the most beautiful fishing ports along the Maine coast.

Sammy Zwecker was our host. Although a newcomer to Maine, he has done much for the sardine industry by his willingness to try out new methods and new products.

We watched thousands of silver herring being pumped out of a sardine boat, followed them through cleaning and trimming, watched nimble-fingered women pack them evenly in cans, saw oil added and then steamed in a giant retort.

This Port Clyde plant is just one of about 40 along the coast from Portland to Eastport. The Indians were the first Maine herring fishermen. Today nearly $30,000,000 worth of these plump, tender sardines are shipped all over the world.

Zwecker packs his in various oils, mustard sauce and tomato sauce. While he supervised the packing of a large military order, he taught us how he enjoys them best.

Sam Zwecker's Sardine Sandwich (4 sandwiches)
Two cans Maine sardines, 8 slices pumpernickel bread, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 teaspoon powdered mustard, 1 small cucumber, scored and sliced thin; 1 Italian onion, sliced.

Sardine and Baked Bean Sandwich (4 sandwiches)
Two cups cold New England style baked beans, 2 cans Maine sardines, sliced onion, 8 slices buttered oatmeal bread, catsup. Make sandwiches of buttered bread, cold baked beans, drained sardines and onion slices. Add catsup if beans are dry.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: New England clam chowder, pilot biscuit, sardine and baked bean sandwiches with onion rings, sliced beefsteak tomatoes, blueberry pie, cheese, coffee, tea, milk.

Explanation Meet Held Today At Farm Bureau

There was an explanation meeting held today at 1:30 p.m. at Farm Bureau Hall for community committee who wanted to get a better understanding of the 1958 Wheat Acreage Reserve Program.

The sign-up period for 1958-crop winter wheat Acreage Reserve agreements started on August 26 and close October 4. All farmers who have an "old farm" wheat acreage allotment for 1958 and who normally grow winter wheat are eligible to sign a winter wheat Acreage Reserve agreement under the 1958 Soil Bank Program, Charles R. Gibson, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said Tuesday.

Producers on farms which received a wheat acreage allotment for the first time for the 1958 wheat crop are not eligible to participate in the wheat Acreage Reserve program, the Chairman declared.

Under the 1958 program, farmers will agree not only to reduce their wheat acreage below the allotment, but also to limit their harvest of "Soil Bank Base" crops, generally all crops produced for harvest to a "permitted acreage." This limit will be determined, in general, by subtracting the number of acres in the Reserve from the total in the Soil Bank Base.

Growers are urged to come to the County ASC Office as soon as possible to furnish their farm's production history, since this information will be needed in order to establish a "Soil Bank Base" for the farm. The farm "base" must be established before a program agreement may be signed. Farmers who took part in the 1957 wheat Acreage Reserve program will be paid a 10 per cent premium above their regular 1958 compensation rate if they put the identical land in the program for 1958.

Sangamon Pastor Has Climbed Top Peak In 48 States

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Rev. F. W. McDermott, a Baptist minister who has conquered the highest peaks in each of the 48 states, now plans to scale new heights beyond the United States.

After 33 years of mountain climbing in this country, the slight, 59-year-old cleric said today he would like to have a try next year at some Mexican or Hawaiian peaks.

"If I was 30 years younger," he added with a grin, "I'd probably be very much interested in Everest. Since 1924, I haven't seen a mountain I didn't want to be on top of." Mt. Everest, in Nepal, is considered the world's tallest.

When asked in an interview to explain what impelled him to climb, he thought a moment, shook his head and replied: "The newest part of our world is our highest mountains. I like to see how the world is being formed before it's torn down."

The cleric believes he is one of four persons ever to reach the pinnacles in every state, and the only minister.

Local Ministers Attend Assembly At University

Eight Methodist ministers of the Jacksonville community moved from pulpits to pews at the annual College of Christian Life, held Aug. 26-30 at Urbana on the University of Illinois campus.

The pastors were able to select three courses: theology, church administration, and preaching. Following the examples of their parishioners, the pastors moved into the rear pews to hear the "preacher to preachers," the Rev. Merrill R. Abbey, minister of First Methodist Church, Ann Arbor, Mich. He is also teaching the course in preaching, Dr. Carl Michelson, professor of Systematic Theology, at Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, N.J., is teaching the theology course. Interpreting The News

Barring a major and unforeseen reversal of Russian policy, the last hope of a disarmament agreement has been dissipated. The next order of business must be to guard against accidental war.

There are several situations in the world in which local wars could so involve the vital interests of the competing East-West camps that a general war might result.

Currently the most dangerous area is the Middle East. There, instability is compounded.

There is a split between the Arab Nations, with Egypt and Syria producing a fear of war among their nominal allies.

There is the Arab-Israel conflict in which the Western Powers are determined to hold their oil interests. But there is a split in the Allied camp, too, with no real unity in policy on the part of Britain and the United States.

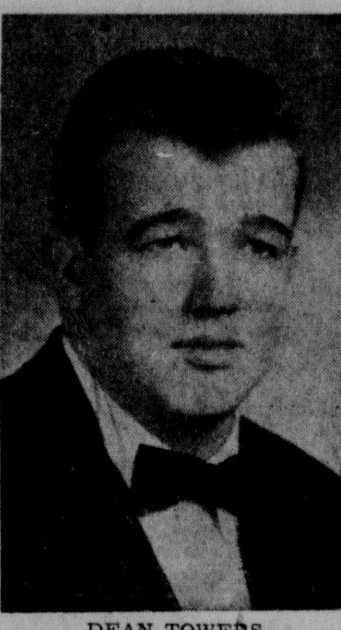

And there is the constant Russian effort to keep the pot boiling. The Middle East situation has become as dangerous as the one created in Central Europe by the continued partition of Germany. The only difference is that the Middle East is currently explosive, while the danger from the German problem is momentarily inherent rather than active.

As internal trouble increases in Red China, the commitment of the United States to defend Formosa will become more and more important in preventing an attack by the Reds to divert attention from their failings.

Southeast Asia grows increasingly combustible. Much the same thing is happening in Indonesia as happened in Syria. Perhaps Indonesia is worse than Syria in one respect—Communist control there would be the result of a popular movement rather than a coup that leaves hope for reversal.

Accidents Near Jerseyville Injure Six

JERSEYVILLE—Elagene Angel, 3627 Coronado Drive, Alton, was given emergency treatment for minor injuries incurred Tuesday noon when the car she was driving skidded on a gravel road near Fidelity causing her to lose control of the vehicle which turned over. She suffered an abrasion of the left shoulder and back and was given emergency treatment at the Jersey Community hospital and dismissed.

Leo Pruitt, 37, of Fieldon, was brought to the Jersey Community Hospital Sunday afternoon for treatment of a severe cut on the arm. He was cutting a rope at his home when the knife slipped and struck him in the left forearm inflicting a wound which required four sutures.

James Crull, 15, stepson of Larry Crull of R. 1 Fieldon, fractured his wrist in an unusual accident Sunday. The boy was hunting at the home of his brother-in-law and shot a squirrel. He climbed up into a tree to recover the animal, lost his footing and fell, fracturing his left wrist. He was treated at the Jersey Community Hospital and was admitted as a patient.

Kathleen Austin, 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Austin of W. Exchange street, Jerseyville, fell from her bicycle Sunday afternoon and another little girl following on another bicycle ran into her, cutting her right hand. Four sutures were required and the patient was dismissed.

Mrs. Anna Boucher, of Hamburg, and Miss Lillie Blumenberg, of Alton, a niece of the former, were brought to the Jersey Community Hospital Sunday evening suffering from injuries received in an automobile accident which occurred at the junction of Route 16 and Route 100 west of Fieldon. A collision between the car driven by Miss Blumenberg and one operated by Edith Wilton of Hillsboro, Ill., occurred at the junction about 5 p.m.

Miss Blumenberg, who is employed in the office of the Alton Memorial hospital, suffered contusions of the left knee and a laceration of the inner side of the lower lip. She was discharged following treatment.

Mrs. Boucher suffered a cerebral contusion and laceration of the left forehead. She was admitted to the hospital as a patient.

Hams Will Be Featured On Weekend Markets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hams will grace many an American dinner table over the Labor Day weekend, judging by the offerings of the nation's supermarket chains.

With beef prices still on the high side, hams will be featured from around 33 to 37 cents a pound depending on the cut and whether the housewife buys a so-called "oven ready" ham.

Turkeys, relative inexpensive, also will be prominent in the holiday scene.

Egg prices were generally higher around the country again this week, with boosts of three to eight cents a dozen reported. Replacement flocks of chickens are smaller and prices are expected to be high for awhile.

Vegetables and fruits more than make up for the extra pennies spent on eggs, however, with fresh produce coming to market from nearby fields in heavy supply. Especially attractive in price this week are cabbage, all varieties of peppers, potatoes, yellow onions, tomatoes, cucumbers, yellow sweet corn, eggplant and yellow or green squash.

Good buys also are available in potatoes, onions and topped carrots from Western fields, while broccoli and cauliflower are moderate in price.

Seedless grapes, Bartlett pears, watermelons and limes are the best bets in fruits, produce men say.

SCOREBOARD

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

SAN FRANCISCO—(NEA)—When you dig into the story behind the New York Giants' move to San Francisco, you don't look up Horace Stoneham. The Giants' owner doesn't even know where the Ferry Building is.

Nor do you seek out Mayor George Christopher. He's just front man in the movement and his eye is on the United States Senate, not baseball.

Instead, you go to the man who picked up the ball where and when it counted most. He is Charles Leonard (Get-It-Done) Harney, a blocky, fallstafian bundle of Irish energy put into the building business. As contractors and engineers in New York and Brooklyn think like Harney—and have his resources—then the Giants and Dodgers wouldn't be leaving 14 million people with only one major league ball club.

Stoneham moved to San Francisco because in Harney he found an individual who not only owns land on which to build a park, but has the organization and equipment to build a stadium seating 45,000—and is willing to extend $6 million in credit.

San Francisco required considerably more than the $5 million municipal bond issue the voters okayed in 1954 to build a park and land the Giants. Mayor Christopher turned to Get-It-Done Harney and he found the man who could wrap the history-making franchise shift into one king-sized package.

They sometimes call it the California give-away baseball program, but Harney, the hard-shelled business tycoon, isn't exactly contributing over-generously.

"I'm no philanthropist or benefactor," says straight-talking Harney. "This deal is economically sound."

"Harney will have made about $3 million when the job is completed," says Thomas Gray, manager of the Downtown Association of San Francisco, who is credited with getting support for the bond issue. "But I'm for him. Nobody else could have put it over." Harney gets first count on the $5 million bond issue and will get his other $6 million through the sale of five per cent revenue bonds.

Outside of his tremendous heavy contracting business, Harney until now was best known here as the nominal chairman of the University of San Francisco's athletic board until 1952. Actually, he was an angel who put up something like $10,000 a year toward football and basketball at the school. He had attended prep school there and took two years of a pre-legal course.

It was Harney who obtained Maurice (Clipper) Smith, Ed McKeever and Joe Kuharich as football coaches at San Francisco. The school produced nine top-flight professional players during this regime, including such as Ollie Matson. Then Pete Newell and now Phil Woopert were brought in as basketball coaches by Harney and the Dons, with Bill Russell, were unbeaten for two straight campaigns.

Harney was at the Kansas City Auditorium with the school's basketball team during the NCAA playoffs late last March when he suffered a heart attack which took him off a 13-hour day working schedule. The attack followed a serious abdominal operation in February. Since then he has taken off 60 pounds, but he remains a stocky, ruddy-faced man behind horned-rim glasses. He now weighs 200.

Next to building roads, bridges, dams, college teams and moving baseball franchises, Harney's principal interests now are a $1 million, 18,000-acre cattle ranch near Livingston, Calif., which he purchased from the estate of the late Charles S. Howard. He also put up youth centers and boys' clubs.

Harney owned 68 acres of land at Candlestick Point in the Bay View section, much of it under shallow water, and was leveling off a hill and filling in for industrial sites when the baseball question arose three years ago.

Then he went to work. San Francisco now has the Giants—although it should cost taxpayers an annual $420,000 over 15 years—and Charley Harney has found another pleasant way of making money.

Savitt, 3 Others
Face Opening
Tests Friday

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—The American favorite, Dick Savitt, and three other seeded men players face opening tests Friday in the 76th national tennis championships. None should be hard-pressed.

Savitt of South Orange, N. J., plays Calvin McCracken of Tennessee, N. J., an unranked player. Savitt is seeded second behind Australia's Ashley Cooper.

In other matches, Sven Davidson of Sweden, seeded third, meets Charles Masterson of Brooklyn; Neale Fraser of Australia, No. 5, faces Peter Estin of Greenwich, Conn., and Ham Richardson of Westfield, N. J., No. 6, takes on Steve Gottlieb of New York.

Forty-two of the 96 first round matches in the men's and women's singles are on tap for the first day, with the best matches held over until Saturday or Sunday.

These include the women's match between Wimbledon champion Althea Gibson and Karol Pagaros of Miami.

SPARTANS HAVE 26 VETERANS
EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Duffy Daugherty's Michigan State football team figures to do all right this season with 26 letter winners among the 74 Spartans who turned out for practice. The team won seven, lost two and tied for fourth place with Ohio State in the Big Ten team standing last season.

Here And There,
3-Year-Old Racer,
Dies In Fire

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP)—Here and There, 3-year-old daughter of Kentucky Derby winner Middleground, died in a blazing barn at Saratoga race track early Thursday only 12 hours after she had won the $29,500 Alabama Stakes.

Among the horses saved was High Gun, the 3-year-old champion of 1954, and handicap champion a year later.

The fire in the block-long King Ranch barn was discovered about 1:20 a. m., and the 14 horses in the stalls had been led to safety when Here and There suddenly bolted back into the flaming structure. Eleven of the horses, including Here and There and High Gun, were owned by the King Ranch of Robert J. Kleberg, Kingsville, Tex.

Cause of the fire was not determined.

Brewer Pitches,
Red Sox Defeat
Detroit, 6-1

DETROIT (AP)—Tom Brewer's 15th pitching triumph, a 6-1 decision over the Detroit Tigers, gave the Boston Red Sox their third straight win over the Tigers and increased the Red Sox third-place margin to 4½ games. Brewer scattered six hits and received ample batting support from Frank Malzone and Jackie Jensen.

Malzone drove in three of the Boston runs and Jensen two.

Red Williams' batting average slipped 1 point to .379. He grounded out in the first inning and then drew four straight walks. He still holds a six-point lead over the New York Yankees' Mickey Mantle.

MAGLIE CLAIMS
HE DOESN'T KNOW
ABOUT TRADE RUMOR

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. (AP)—Brooklyn's Sal Maglie said Thursday nobody has talked to him directly about a possible sale to the New York Yankees or Chicago White Sox.

"All I know is what I read in the paper," the veteran pitcher said.

The Yankees were reported as trying to get Maglie for the pennant stretch. But White Sox President Chuck Comiskey said: "We have made a substantial offer for Maglie and also for Virgil Trucks of Kansas City."

Before the Yankees could get him, Maglie would have to be waived out of the National League and through the last seven clubs of the American. That means Chicago could block the move.

RADEMACHER TO DISCUSS PROPOSED
FIGHT IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK (AP)—Pete Rademacher, the Olympic heavyweight champion who was stopped by Floyd Patterson in Seattle last week, is coming to New York to discuss a proposed fight in Madison Square Garden.

The International Boxing Club said Thursday Rademacher had wired from his Grandview, Wash., home that he was willing to discuss the offer.

The IBC had offered the ex-amateur $20,000 plus expenses to fight in the Garden in November. The IBC proposed one of four opponents: Eddie Machen, Alex Miteff, Willie Pastrano and Zora Folley.

Slaughter's Solo Blast
In 11th Gives Yankees
2-1 Win Over Chisox

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP)—An 11th inning homer by 41-year-old Enos Slaughter Thursday gave New York a 2-1 triumph and a sweep of a three-game set against Chicago, dumping the White Sox 6½ behind the front-running Yankees, before the largest weekday crowd at a day game in Comiskey Park history, 39,357.

New York's first run also was a homer, a leadoff clout by Hank Bauer in the third inning. The Sox tied it at 1-1 in the bottom of the third off Yankee starter, Tom Sturdivant.

The winner was lefty Whitey Ford, who relieved Sturdivant after six innings and turned in perhaps his best performance since an ailing shoulder started hampering him in May.

Ford, whose comeback can virtually seal a pennant repeat by the high-flying Yankees, allowed only one hit and struck out four, including three in a row, during his five-inning stint.

Iowa-Minnesota Game
May Decide Big Ten
Title Again This Year

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP)—For all intent and purposes, the Big Ten football championship was settled last fall when Iowa defeated Minnesota 7-0 at Minneapolis Nov. 10. That gave Iowa its first conference grid crown in 34 years.

And it will be that the Nov. 9 game at Iowa City between the Rose Bowl champion Hawkeyes and the Bobby Cox-led Gophers will hold the key to the title this autumn.

It's customary in the Big Ten to say Michigan, Ohio State or Michigan State will be in the championship running. Year in and year out, it's a tough parlay to beat and one of those three conceivably could dethrone Iowa this season.

However, Iowa's Forest Evashevski proved last fall he is not the type of coach to tolerate the Hawkeyes' once-accepted role of Big Ten doormat. His use of the clever Kenny Ploen in a specially designed winged-T confounded all the experts, who had the Hawkeyes pegged for a second-division finish.

Ploen is gone, but Evashevski has a fine passing replacement in Randy Duncan among 21 returning Hawkeye lettermen. One thing will work against Evashevski this season. The element of surprise no longer will favor the Hawkeyes, who must come out swinging against six conference foes—Indiana, Wisconsin, Northwestern, Michigan, Minnesota and Ohio State.

Up at Minneapolis, Murray Warmath will be gearing a team which may recapture the Gopher fame of Bernie Bierman's great era. Quarterback Cox may be the nation's best player this season. If he isn't, it won't be for a lack of confidence or ball-handling skill. Warmath has 27 returning lettermen with the makings of a bristling line and a blasting backfield.

Of the five teams which appear destined to another second-division finish, Northwestern's revived Wildcats, with Ara Parseghian leading his second coaching season, could continue to be a surprising team. The Wildcats, although lacking in seasoned quarterbacking, have two of the finest ball-carriers in the country in Bob McKiever and Wilmer Fowler.

Illinois, whose Big Ten coaching "dean," Ray Eliot, starts his 16th season, can hardly to any-

The loser Thursday was Dick Donovan, who went all the way, scattering eight hits as he absorbed his fourth loss against 15 victories.

Slaughter's decisive blow came on Donovan's first pitch in the 11th inning. The aging former Cardinal star raced around the bases like a colt instead of the customary leisurely jog which follows a homer.

The Sox's run came on Donovan's single, a fielder's choice, Nellie Fox's single and Earl Torgerson's long sacrifice fly to center.

In making a waltz of this expected "showdown" series, the Yankees boosted to nine their Comiskey Park conquests of the White Sox against two defeats. New York 001 000 001—2 8 1 Chicago 001 000 000—1 4 0 (11 innings)

Hohman Defends
Country Club
Title Successfully

E. P. "Red" Hohman successfully defended his Country Club golf championship by defeating Ormond Goodrich 5 up 4 in a 36 hole match Sunday afternoon.

Hohman took an early lead but Goodrich evened the match at the end of nine holes. The champion quickly won 5 holes on the second trip around to lead 5 up at the end of 18 holes. "Red" extended his lead to 6 up at 27 holes and held off a late rally by Goodrich to win the match on the 31st hole.

Hohman shot a one over par 71 in the morning and Goodrich a 77. Both players reached the finals by virtue of 1 up victories. Hohman defeated Jim Buckley and Goodrich defeated Joe Doyle.

Hohman will meet the winner of the park tourney for the City Championship. Last year, Hohman was defeated by Homer Mitchell, the present city champion.

Tighe's Future Decided, Tigers Re-Hire Him
DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers Thursday ended speculation about Manager Jack Tighe's future by announcing that the 44-year-old rookie manager would be back in 1958.

Strangely, the club gave Tighe a new contract just after he had been fired. Tighe had suffered two of their most disappointing losses of the season.

"We are well pleased with Jack Tighe's work this season," said General Manager John J. McHale. "He has done a good job and we made the announcement now so everyone can make plans for next season."

The Tigers, picked to finish second in the American League, went into a three-game series with the Boston Red Sox on Tuesday night needing a sweep to take over third place. Instead, the Red Sox won, 7-5 and 1-0.

"It came as quite a surprise to me—especially at a time like this," said the bald skipper who succeeded Buck Harris a year ago after spending 20 years in the Tiger organization without getting a crack at managing a big league club.

Tighe's contract is believed to call for a salary of about $27,000. The new pact is a one-year deal. The Tigers long have had a policy against granting more than one-year contracts.

Unless the Tigers stage a furious finish in the closing month of the campaign, it is doubtful they will match their 82 victories of a year ago.

Frank Lary and Bill Hoelt, two pitchers who accounted for 41 victories last year, have had off-seasons. The hitters who were expected to lead the offense—Harvey Kuenn, Al Kaline, Charlie Maxwell and Ray Boone—have fallen off at the plate. All four were above the 300 batting mark last season. Currently the Tigers do not have a regular above that figure.

Sports
Trail

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Despite the healthy lead the Milwaukee Braves have established in the National League race there is a tendency in some quarters to view their chances of winning the pennant with skepticism.

These cautious critics base their doubts on a belief the Milwaukee club blew its big chance last September and are liable to do it again.

The fact is the Braves didn't lose the pennant last September so much as the Brooklyn Dodgers won it. Fred Haney's team might have tossed away some games it might have won, but it played better than 500 ball down the stretch.

Nor enough better, though. It won 14 while losing 13 for a .519 percentage, while the Dodgers were winning 18 and losing only 10 for a .643 average.

The Braves were two and one-half games in front last Sept. 1, and it took them a month to lose that lead and drop one game behind. That isn't exactly blowing up with a loud bang.

They will go into September this year with a much larger league lead, which means that if they play even 500 ball during the month the Dodgers or the Cardinals will have to gallop along at a 750 clip or thereabouts to overtake them.

It could be done, naturally, as practically anything is possible in baseball except for a team to win the pennant when it is six games behind with only five to play. But we just can't see Milwaukee playing only 500 ball the last month.

Here is the way the first division looked Sept. 1 last year:

W. L. Pct. G.B.
Milwaukee 78 49 .614 —
Brooklyn 75 51 .595 2½
Cincinnati 75 53 .586 3½
St. Louis 63 65 .492 15½

And here is how it looks at the finish:

Brooklyn 93 61 .604 —
Milwaukee 92 62 .597 1
Cincinnati 91 63 .591 2
St. Louis 76 78 .494 17

The percentages tell the story. Brooklyn gained nine points during the month, Milwaukee lost 17, Cincinnati gained five, and St. Louis, not a contender, gained 2.

Accuse Iowa State
Of Luring 2 Prep
Players To Ames

AMES, Iowa (AP)—Jim Myers, Iowa State College football coach, said Thursday he is trying to get two Missouri high school football stars to enroll at Iowa State but denied making offers illegal under Big Eight or NCAA rules.

"We're not going to be scared off by a Missouri University official," Myers asserted.

Myers, who declined to name the official, identified the high school stars as two backfield acres from last year's championship Jefferson (Mo) High School team, fullback Mel West and halfback Don Webb.

The Columbia (Mo.) Tribune said earlier Thursday it had learned that Iowa State College tried to get two central Missouri high school football stars to abandon plans to attend Missouri this fall.

The newspaper said a scholarship was offered one of the youths plus a $100-a-week job for himself and also for his classmate.

"The two job offers, the athletes told the Tribune, were accompanied by promises of free room and board for the three weeks before school opens," the Tribune story said.

Myers denied offering rooms or other than vacation time jobs to the players. "The boys either misinterpreted the offer or were misquoted," he said.

"We could get them summer-time jobs and employment during Christmas vacation," the coach said. "We're fortunate to have more big engineers than all schools in the conference combined and they can offer the boys good jobs."

Myers said Iowa State coaches learned of the two Missouri youths from a former Cyclone athlete, John Griffith, who played under Missouri U. Coach Abe Stuber in 1947. He said Griffith was their prep coach.

Garcia, Indians
Rack Up 13-4 Win
Over Baltimore

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mike Garcia blanked the Baltimore Orioles in all but one inning Thursday as he pitched the Cleveland Indians to a 13-4 victory in the finale of a three-game series. He was assisted by home runs by Jim Hegan, Rocky Colavito, Al Smith and Vic Wertz.

The victory, the eighth for Garcia against as many defeats, put the Indians a half-game ahead of the Orioles in their see-saw battle for fifth place in the American League.

Cleveland pounced on Billy O'Dell for six runs in the first inning on three hits, three walks and an error to hand the young left-hander his eighth loss against two victories. The big blow was Hegan's two-run homer.

FAN FILES INJURY
SUIT AGAINST CHICAGO CARDINALS

CHICAGO (AP)—LaVern L. Schaffer of suburban Homewood Thursday filed a $70,000 personal injury suit against the Chicago Cardinals football team and the owners of Comiskey Park.

The Circuit Court suit charged that Schaffer suffered permanent injuries while attending a football game between the Cardinals and the Washington Redskins on Nov. 20, 1955.

Schaffer alleged that while sitting in a reserved seat behind the goal line in Comiskey Park he was pushed over a 12-foot fence and into the field by a crowd of spectators lunging for a football after a point after touchdown kick.

The suit charged the Cardinals and the American League Baseball Club of Chicago, Inc., owners of the park, with negligence in failing to provide a safe place to view the game and failure to have proper guards in attendance.

SugarRay Wins Money
Guarantee, Agrees To Meet Carmen Basilio

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson Thursday won a nine-day battle of the conference tables for a money guarantee for theater television and agreed once more to defend his crown against Carmen Basilio at Yankee Stadium, Sept. 23.

It was a victory all around for the crafty veteran who had called off the battle of champions, Aug. 29 because of a dispute with the International Boxing Club over theater TV. Sugar Ray now will receive a minimum guarantee of $255,000 from the theater-TV receipts alone. He also scored when he had Teleprompter Corp. included in the closed circuit deal with Theater Network Television, Inc.

Basilio also shared in Robinson's holdout win. The welterweight rule will receive a minimum guarantee of $110,000 from the theater-TV against his 20 per cent out. Robinson collects 45 per cent. If the theater-TV receipts, in which they share, go over the mark, they could receive more money.

Under the terms spelled out at a five-hour conference at the State Athletic Commission offices, Robinson and Basilio also will get the same percentages of the $30,000 for radio (NBC) and of the movie deal with United Artists.

Nat Halpern, president of TNT, made the offer of guarantees after a series of meetings and more cautions than at a political convention. The promoting IBC then announced it would underwrite the guarantee since the main contract is between the fighters and the IBC.

At Robinson's insistence, Halpern will license Teleprompter to handle the closed circuit telecast to theaters in four cities which TNT has not contracted for. The cities include Duluth, Minn.

Halpern said his outfit already has lined up a record number of 155 theaters in 122 cities in the U. S. and Canada for the fight.

In the original offer by TNT, which had been signed by the IBC, Robinson (45) and Basilio (20) were to collect their percentages of the amount received but no money guarantee was given.

Robinson insisted flatly on the financial guarantee. On Aug. 20 he announced he had "a better deal" for theater-TV from Teleprompter Corp. That gave him a personal guarantee of $250,000. He insisted the IBC switch from TNT to Teleprompter and when the IBC refused, Robinson called the fight off.

LANE SCANNING
AMERICAN LEAGUE
FOR OUTFIELDER

CHICAGO (AP)—Frank Lane, general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, was shopping around the American League Thursday for a hard-hitting outfielder who could give a lift to the lagging Redbirds.

The second-place Cardinals are spending an open date here Thursday and Lane was talking with Yankee and White Sox officials.

Lane said he was scanning the waiver lists for a player who might give us a lift in September.

He was looking over the American League for immediate help rather than his own farm teams because of a recent baseball law prohibiting a major league club from bringing up a minor league player until the end of the minor league season.

T. W. Kirby Sr., Druggist, Dies At Jerseyville

JERSEYVILLE — Funeral services for T. W. Kirby Sr., will be conducted Friday, Aug. 30, from the Jacoby Brothers funeral home in Jerseyville at 2 p.m. The Rev. M. Edwards Breed, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Jerseyville, will officiate, and interment will be in the Oak Grove cemetery.

For more than 65 years, Mr. Kirby has been engaged in the drug business in Jerseyville, and had remained active in his occupation until his final illness began a few months ago.

He was born Nov. 11, 1875, on a farm five miles south of Jerseyville and was the eldest of five children born to the late George Henry and Emma Vaughn Kirby. He attended Shurtleff College in Alton in 1892 and 1893 and became a registered pharmacist in 1894. He began preparation for his profession at the age of 17 when he went to work in the Remer Drug Store in this city. In a short time, the late Charles DuHadway entered into a partnership with Remer, and in 1902, Mr. Kirby bought the Remer interest and formed a partnership with DuHadway which continued until the death of the latter in 1908.

He became sole owner of the business in 1909, and in 1909 purchased the building south of their location on South State Street and moved to the new quarters, where the store has since remained.

His son, T. W. Kirby Jr., upon his graduation from the St. Louis School of Pharmacy in 1925, became associated with his father in business, and the two continued to operate under the partnership until Feb. 12, 1953, when the business was sold to Ivan Helderscheid, an employee of the store for 21 years, the place continues to operate under the name of Kirby's Drug Store. The former owners, when their health permitted, continued to assist at the store.

As "Dean" of Jerseyville business men, Mr. Kirby was honored by the Jerseyville Junior Chamber of Commerce with a life membership in the organization in recognition for his services to the business world of Jerseyville.

Friends may call at the Jacoby Brothers funeral home until time for the funeral services.

Bloodmobile Quota Is Up To Walk-In Donors; Receive Only 89 Pints

Whether the two day visit of the Bloodmobile in this city yesterday and today is a success or failure depends on walk-in donors—those who volunteer their blood without having already made an appointment.

The quota set for each day is 175 pints. Only 107 pints appeared at the bank Thursday, 18 of which were rejected. The total amount received was only 89 pints. This was nearly 100 pints short.

The quota for this week's visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile is 350 pints. "Only prompt response by the public will lift the quota to the top," Clarendon (York) Smith, chairman of the blood bank committee, said Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Betty Houston, secretary of the Red Cross, said the staff is hopeful that a large number of persons will respond to the appeal. "If they do," she said, "we may reach the quota by the time the Bloodmobile is ready to leave Friday evening."

The Bloodmobile staff will begin activities at noon at the Masonic Temple.

Persons who wish to donate blood may call CH 5-8729, the Red Cross office, or CH 5-2315, the Masonic temple.

Senate Passes $3,435,810,000 Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate passed Thursday night and sent to the House a $3,435,810,000 money bill to finance this country's world-wide foreign aid program.

The bulky measure was called up and passed in about 15 minutes by a 59-19 vote with almost no debate. It now goes to the House for expected final approval there Friday.

The action, coupled with the Senate's approval of the civil rights bill Thursday night, meant that the 85th Congress was highly likely to wind up its first session Friday and go home.

Speaker Rayburn had held up action on foreign aid in the House Thursday for fear that, if its members approved it, many of them would head for home and leave him without a quorum for other necessary work before adjournment.

House passage of the foreign aid appropriations measure is the last remaining major barrier to adjournment.

The House, having quit for the day before the Senate adopted the foreign aid bill, in the form of a conference report, will complete congressional action on it Friday and send it on to President Eisenhower.

Four Perish In Snowstorm On Alpine Slope

SALZBURG, Austria (AP)—Two teen-age boys and two of their teachers perished Thursday in a snow storm in the Alps. Another boy in their party of 11 from Vienna was missing and feared dead.

The victims were trapped Wednesday night on the slopes of the 10,700-foot Wiesbachhorn peak south of Salzburg.

Four youths managed to reach the safety of a mountain hut, where all had started out two days ago. The other seven camped in the open in the raging snowstorm during the night.

Alpine police and mountain guides rescued two boys at one camping site. At another site, where five persons had been spotted from the air, they found only two boys alive. Two others and a teacher had frozen to death. A second teacher was found alive on the slopes, but died en route to a hospital.

GRAINS DROP UNDER SELLING PRESSURE

By EARL AYKROID

CHICAGO (U)—Most grains declined on the Board of Trade again Thursday under pressure of hedge selling and liquidation.

Corn again led the downturn, losing up to 1 1/2 cents a bushel as the nearby September contract dipped to a new seasonal low for the second successive day.

Liquidation of September wheat, rye and soybeans increased near the end of the session. Friday is the first day for tendering September futures and this brought some selling into the markets, particularly in corn. Traders look for heavy tenders of the feed grain.

New crop wheat closed 1/2 lower to 3/4 higher, corn 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, oats 1/2 lower to 1/4 higher, rye 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, soybeans 1/2 lower to 1/4 higher and laid 5 to 12 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Extreme losses for September rye at one time ranged up to two cents. Wheat was off as much as 1 1/2 cents a bushel at times and soybeans 2 1/2 cents.

A late rally, however, erased the extreme losses in wheat with buying credited to flour mills and exporters.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (U)—Scattered losses in railroad issues gave the bond market a slightly lower tone Thursday.

For the corporate list as a whole, declines outnumbered advances by a margin of three-to-two. Industrials closed mixed after shipping most of the day, and utilities were steady.

U. S. government liens were mostly lower for the second day in succession.

Dealers attributed the losses in governments in part to the approaching Labor Day weekend. They said the amount of money in circulation would be expected to increase over the long week end, thus putting pressure on bank reserves. Hence, they said, the banks are reluctant to extend their commitments.

Corporate bond volume on the New York Stock exchange totaled $3,470,000 par value compared with Wednesday's $3,666,000.

New York Stock Market

By ED MORSE

NEW YORK (U)—Aircraft and missile-making stocks were spurred late Thursday by the international news but not in time to convert a dull and generally declining stock market to the upside.

Russian rejection of the West's all-or-nothing disarmament package brought late recovery to the aircraft and missile makers which previously had been falling along with the rest of the market. Chrysler, which had been dragging along with a $1 loss, sprang to life and showed a net gain of more than that as Army Secretary Brucker said that the firm's Jupiter missile was "a spectacular success."

Earlier the market was drifting downward with its recent mood of uncertainty accentuated by the approach of the long Labor Day weekend and extreme doubt in Wall Street as to the outlook for business and the market after the holiday, a traditional turning point. As in so many past sessions, it was a drying-up of bids rather than selling pressure which put price down.

Turnover dwindled to the lowest of the week, totaling 1,630,000 shares, compare with 1,840,000 Wednesday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 70 cents to $173.00 with the industrials down $1.10, the rails down $1.10 to a new 1957 low and the utilities down 10 cents.

The tone was lower also on the American Stock Exchange where volume totaled 530,000 shares compared with 640,000 Wednesday.

SEARCH LAKE SHORE AREA FOR CLUES IN ANDERSEN SLAYING

day, Aug. 18. When he reached the spot, he said, two young men drove off in a lightless car.

Judy's known timetable ended at 11 p.m. Aug. 16. That's when she left the house of Elena Abbatocia, 15, a school chum, to walk to her own home about three-quarters of a mile away on the West Side.

Police, as part of their hunt through the whole area surrounding the harbor, looked for clues in the 4700 block on Malden avenue. Residents reported they heard shots and screams.

The interest in the reports of pounding stemmed from the fact the oil drums in which Judy's torso and members were found had been pounded to bend the open ends inward.

The general hunt's objective was finding the death weapon, Judy's clothing, the gun and hatchet or saw used by the killer or killers, the place where the body was hacked and the source of the oil drums.

Joseph Abbatocia, 28, a brother of Elena, underwent his second voluntary lie detector test Thursday. The first test Wednesday was termed inconclusive. After Thursday's test, a spokesman said Joseph had no knowledge of the Andersen case.

Billy Graham's Longest Crusade Draws To Close

NEW YORK (U)—Billy Graham said Thursday his four months preaching here reached more persons than anything similar in the history of Christianity, but that New York's spiritual awakening has just begun.

"This is one of the great missions fields in the world for the gospel of Christ," the young evangelist said in summing up his record-breaking crusade which ends Sunday.

He said at a news conference that

Meredosia Legion Auxiliary Plan Picnic Saturday

MEREDOSIA — Tuesday night the Auxiliary of American Legion Post 516 held its August meeting in the Legion cabin with the president, Mrs. James Donham, in charge.

After the regular opening and the secretary's and treasurer's reports, Mrs. John Nortrup told of attending the state convention at Chicago and thanked the members for sending her.

Mrs. Donham asked that those present remind all other members that their help will be needed in preparing vegetables Friday night and all day the Saturday of the picnic, August 31.

Mrs. John Nortrup, assisted by Mrs. Herbert Hinners, conducted installation of the new officers: Mrs. Herman Rausch, president; Mrs. Byron McAllister, first vice-president; Mrs. Henry Krutmeier, second vice-president; Mrs. William Evans, secretary; Mrs. Gene Nortrup, treasurer; Mrs. Bessie Turner, chaplain; Mrs. James Donham, historian; Mrs. Ray McAllister, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Russell Kunzeman, assistant sergeant.

Following the ceremony, the new president announced committee chairmen: veterans' crafts, Mrs. John Nortrup; membership, Mrs. Byron McAllister; coupons, Mrs. Kenneth Nunn; poppy, Mrs. Gene Nortrup; rehabilitation, Mrs. Bertha Rice; child welfare, Mrs. John Newman. Other chairmen will be named later.

Refreshment committee for the September meeting is Mrs. Richard James and Mrs. David Cooper; entertainment, Mrs. Paul Sieving Jr. and Mrs. Rupert Brinn.

After the formal closing, Mrs. Robert Chambers and Mrs. Don Grisham served cookies and coffee.

Then everyone washed the dishes to be used during the picnic.

Picnic Program

Program booklets for the annual Legion and Auxiliary picnic August 31, have been printed and are being distributed in Meredosia.

On Saturday afternoon there will be kid contests beginning at 1:30. Prizes will be given for best decorated bicycle, sack race, three-legged race, human wheelbarrow race, best decorated doll buggy (under 6 years old), best decorated wagon (under 6 years old), cracker eating contest and pet parade. Other entertainment will be furnished by Earl Whited and Everett Turner — roller skating stunts and comedy.

The evening program will begin at 5:45 with a concert by the Meredosia-Chambersburg school band, directed by Don Grisham. An amateur contest will start at 7:00 p.m. Earl Whited and Everett Turner will appear again. A street dance from nine to twelve will wind up the festivities.

Kum-Join-U's

Substituting for a formal meeting, members of the Kum-Join-U's Club gathered at a restaurant in Beardstown for dinner on Monday night.

Hostesses for the September meeting will be Mrs. John Walsh and Mrs. Lloyd Lathrop.

STAR PROBLEM

MAYSVILLE, Ky. (P)—Young David DeLisle, noticing a star-like design before the serial number on a dollar bill, wrote the U.S. Secret Service for an explanation.

Back came a letter from U. E. Baughman, chief of the service, who explained:

"The small design in front of the serial number indicates it is a 'Star' note. Every one-hundred-millionth note is a 'Star' note. They are used to replace notes that are found to be defective."

Now David has a problem: Should he retain the one-in-a-hundred-million bill or live it up a dollar's worth?

SCIENTIST BLAMES SCIENTISTS

KENT, Ohio (P)—A Kent State professor says scientists themselves are partly responsible for the small number of young people attracted to careers in science.

He says, scientists themselves could improve the situation "by giving more attention to social issues. A more sympathetic press and a more sympathetic public could do much to correct unfavorable impressions."

Dr. Ralph W. Dexter, a biological researcher, says "in spite of the role that science has played in developing modern civilization, the public has little knowledge and little appreciation of science and scientists."

Report Heavy Weed Growth In Jersey County

JERSEYVILLE — Rag weed growth in the Jersey county locality is heavier this season than for a number of years according to reports of observers. The wet first months of the spring and early summer in the locality stimulated all weed growth to an extent greater than for some years, and there is a great prevalence of not only the rag weed but all other types found in this area.

The golden rod will also be greater in number and growth than one year ago. Hay fever addicts report that August thus far has been giving them a bad time.

News Notes
Mrs. Lydia Brennecke of Riverside, Calif., came to Jerseyville Sunday to make her home with her brother, Edward Meyer, of East Pearl Street. The latter's wife died recently. Mrs. Brennecke will keep house for her brother.

Another sister, Mrs. Julia Woodruff of Ursa, Ill., has been assisting him here pending the arrival of Mrs. Brennecke.

Meyer is in the employ of the State of Illinois as a district fire warden and is continuing his work in that capacity.

To Teach Physical Education
Miss Emma F. Bradley of Poole, Ky., has been employed by the Board of Education of Community Unit District 100 to teach Physical Education at the Jersey Community high school.

Miss Bradley is a graduate of the Western Kentucky State College, of Bowling Green, Ky. She has taught at the high schools in Enfield and Benton, Ill.

The tables were prettily decorated with fall flowers. Guests were present from Lincoln, Murrayville, Springfield, Pleasant Plains, Jacksonville and Auburn. The following program was held at two o'clock: two songs, "Leaning On The Everlasting Arms" and "I Love To Tell the Story," by audience; vocal duet, "The Lord Is Counting On You," by Ruth Anne Creed and Juanita Way, with Judy Fulton as accompanist; prayer by Rev. Edward Tesh of Lincoln, former pastor of church here; vocal duet, "Jesus I Come," by Mrs. Wanda Morgan and Joan Kruse, with Mrs. Leta Hammack as accompanist; the afternoon's message was brought by Rev. "FIELD OF THUNDER"—That's the Australian natives' word for the Maralinga Proving Ground where Britain will open a series of atomic tests Sept. 12. Newsmap spots the test site with bomb burst. The British are keeping Christmas Island in the Central Pacific—scene of their most recent tests—in readiness for use. This move may be a sign that London is convinced no agreement will be reached in the current five-power disarmament conference.

Woman Orders 2 Pairs Of Fives; Gets One Ten

JERSEYVILLE — According to simple arithmetic "two times five equals ten" but one Jerseyville woman will testify that it doesn't always amount to the same thing.

According to her husband, this housewife noticed from an advertisement that corduroy flats were on sale in a St. Louis department store. She had worn similar flats and the price was so alluring, she ordered two pairs of size five.

"Monday afternoon," the husband reported, "the postman delivered a parcel to our house. My wife opened it and found a note inside stating the company was temporarily out of size five but were taking the liberty of substituting."

"My wife made a hurried inspection of the substitute footwear and burst into fits of laughter. Instead of the two pairs of size five she had ordered, the package contained one pair of size tens. No doubt the clerk had figured out that one ten equals two fives."

Her real trouble will begin when she returns the one pair of shoes. She is charged with two pairs and it will take a little "doing" to convince the store she only got one pair. "But it's cured her from shopping by mail," the man volunteered. "She firmly declares 'Never again!'"

Dr. J. Sklenar Prepares To Leave Bluffs

BLUFFS—Dr. C. Kizlauskis, of Chicago, was in Bluffs Friday making arrangements to resume the medical practice of Dr. Joseph Sklenar who plans to leave Bluffs the forepart of September.

Dr. Sklenar, after much thought and consideration, has decided to go to the west coast where he plans to go into mental research. He has made many friends in the Bluffs-Chapin-Jacksonville community in the past six or seven years which made the decision a difficult one to reach. His realization of the need of a physician in the community prompted him to use every resource to obtain some one to come to Bluffs to take over his practice.

Dr. Kizlauskis plans to arrive in Bluffs about October 15 and, having purchased the office equipment of Dr. Sklenar, will also use the same office with the same telephone number. He and his wife will reside in the Phillips property in the west part of Bluffs which is being vacated by Dr. Sklenar. Dr. Kizlauskis is at the present time associated with other physicians in Chicago.

Dr. Sklenar was in Jacksonville at the State Hospital before moving to Chapin. From Chapin he came to Bluffs about two years ago. He is having a public sale of household furnishings Saturday, August 31, in preparation to moving.

Mrs. Lora Fry Marks 80th Year In Patterson

PATTERSON—Mrs. Lora Fry, one of Patterson's older residents, observed her eightieth birthday anniversary on Friday, August 27. On Sunday a dinner was held in her home observing the occasion. She received a number of gifts and cards from her friends and relatives and also two large birthday cakes, one from her daughter, Mrs. Opal Smith, of Alton, and one from her granddaughter, Mrs. Anita Riddell, of Jacksonville.

Afternoon visitors were, Mrs. Smith, of Jacksonville, Mr. and Mrs. William Cunningham and Langdon Adams, of Glasgow.

Mrs. Fry has the distinction of living in the same home where she was born and reared, having been away only seven months, when she and her husband had the late Ed Fry resided on the Lowenstein ranch near Hillview, where he was employed by the late Henry McLane.

The two front rooms where she resides is log underneath, covered now by weatherboarding with walnut floors and ceilings. Her uncle, Beal Cotter, cut and hewed the logs that went into the home, which is situated in the main part of the village, just east of the Hubbard Grocery. According to Mrs. Fry, many of the older families have resided in the house.

Her parents, the late W. B. and Elizabeth Watt Coates, bought the home in 1860 from the late Lee Coates, and reared their family of two boys and six daughters there. Mrs. Fry is the last of her family. One of her sisters, Mrs. Peoria Nell, of White Hall, died about five years ago at the age of 92. Their father, Mr. Coates was one time postmaster in the village. Mrs. Fry is still using some of the furniture which was used by her parents in the home.

She is the mother of five living children: John of New Salem, in Pike county; Curtis, Russell, and Paul of White Hall; and Mrs. Opal Smith of Alton. One daughter, Hazel, died a number of years ago. She has several grandchildren and great grandchildren.

She is at present living alone, but due to ill health, plans to spend the winter elsewhere.

The Gold Crown is UP.....

...and so is the POWER!

it's here - the Big Change!

in 2 all-new Standard Gasolines

It's another triumph from Standard Research—the Big Change that brings new concepts of power and economy in two new STANDARD Gasolines!

NEW GOLD CROWN Super-Premium . . . an entirely new grade of gasoline . . . created to meet the demands of high-compression cars, to step up performance in any car. GOLD CROWN will thrill you with the feel of your car at its best—lively, smooth, knockfree. GOLD CROWN stops power-loss and fuel-waste caused by spark-plug crust—actually rejuvenates most fouled plugs after a few tankfuls. That's why so many GOLD CROWN users report extra miles from every gallon.

NEW RED CROWN King-Size Regular, with the Big Change—octane that's higher than premium grades of just a few years ago! New RED CROWN will give you king-size knock-free performance and king-size economy, too.

Both STANDARD Gasolines keep your engine livelier longer by cutting costly wear in the start-up, warm-up period.

Try the Big Change in your car—you'll be glad you did!

You expect more from STANDARD and get it!
